

I do not disapprove of 'truthful' journalism, however, I have seen several unbiased documentaries detailing Senator Kerry's service record and none seem to remotely suggest that it was dishonorable.

In fact, all records and statements of those who 'served' with him imply that he was an exemplary soldier. Upon an honorable discharge he and many other veterans seemed to disagree with the purposes of the war, and, since they live in a free nation, they were allowed to protest.

It is likely that all of the content of this documentary will be proven false after the election, and that the intent of the broadcasters is to sway the election, as well as create a ratings boost. If they truly wanted to get the truth out they could have aired this program a month ago so that other news organizations would be able to corroborate or challenge their facts.
